Fall reading program

The Belle Glade Branch Library, the Pahokee Branch Library, and the South Bay Branch Library will be sponsoring a Fall Reading Program for children ages 3-12. The program will run from Sept. 21 through Oct. 31.

McDonalds food coupons, paperback books and t-shirts will be awarded as prizes for reading a specified number of books. In addition, all participants will receive a pass to movie day at the library branch.

Prizes will be awarded as supplies last. For more information, please call the Belle Glade Branch Library at 996-5453, the Pahokee Branch Library at 924-5928, or the South Bay Branch Library at 992-9393.

Educational issues to be addressed

Glades area residents will be able to help decide the future of local schools by participating in the Glades Inter-agency Network's (GIN) special task force of community members.

The purpose of the task force will be to explore the feasibility of establishing a Glades area education committee to deal with local educational issues and policies. Participation is open to any Glades area resident.

Individuals interested in participating should attend an organizational meeting at 5 p.m., Sept. 21, at the new Glades Central Community High School in the cafeteria.

For more information, call Aurie Williams at 992-9500.

Community Health Fair

The HRS Palm Beach County Health Unit, Glades Community Health Center, and St. Mary's Catholic Church, Pahokee are co-sponsoring a community health fair.

The event will be Saturday, Oct. 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at St. Mary's Parish Hall. Included in the services offered are immunizations, health education, nutrition counseling, WIC, vision and hearing testing and much more. The American Red Cross Bloodmobile and the Med-mob will be available.

Human and economic services, housing and PHP information will be available to answer questions. The Health Care District will also be represented.

The day will include games, the traveling zoo, clowns, a flea market and food.

For more information on services or to volunteer help, call Marylou Powers at 996-1608, or Sue Grammond at 996-1634, Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Tax workshop offered

A free sales tax workshop is offered for new businesses. The workshop will be Oct. 24 at 9 a.m. at Palm Beach Community College, Glades Campus. Teaching the workshop will be John Merchant, taxpayer assistance specialist for the West Palm Beach Service Center.

For more information, contact the Department of Revenue at 407-540-2800.

Up in smoke...A fire which started in an outside grill in a wooden shed attached to the back of Fat Boys Barbecue caused fire and smoke damage last Friday just before the lunch hour crowd would have arrived. Owner Scott Berkowitz said the restaurant usually uses the inside grills, and the restaurant was only shut down for a couple of days while employees cleaned up the damage from the smoke inside the building.

Fire in South Bay affects 14 people American Red Cross assists families in need

An early morning apartment building fire Tuesday destroyed a home at 102 Oak Ct. in South Bay. Tamila Brown and her three children live in the apartment that was completely destroyed. Brown and her family have received temporary shelter from the American Red Cross, who were notified of the disaster at 4 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Neighbor Pamela Harvey, at 101 Oak Ct. received major damage to her home. Harvey lived there with her five children. Mrs. Harvey said the barking of the family dog, Fifi, awoke her and her five children which allowed them to escape and warn neighbors of the fire.

The apartment of neighbor

Francessa Howard received minor damage. Howard, two adults and her child lived in unit 103 Oak Ct. The Harvey family and the Howard family have also received temporary housing from the American Red Cross.

Members of the South Bay fire department, along with help from the Belle Glade fire department, said it took nearly an hour to extinguish the blaze.

"The fire affected 14 people and right now we are holding the people in a motel until we hear something from the Housing Authority," said Scottie Wright, Director of the West County Service Center in Belle Glade. "State Fire Marshall Investigator hasn't been able to determine the cause of the fire at this time."

The South Bay Police Department and Belle Glade Sheriff's Department were helpful. The Sheriff's Department even allowed the American Red Cross to use one of their vans to transport the families to their temporary shelter. The American Red Cross has given the each of the families a voucher for food and clothing," said Ms. Wright.

When the families have located a new place to live the Red Cross can provide them with additional assistance to help with things they lost as a result of this fire such as furniture, pots & pans, linens, etc. depending on their disaster caused needs, says Melissa Sullivan, Public Relations person for American Red Cross.

City sends message to adult bookstores, palm readers - "We don't want you"

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

In a move meant to discourage adult bookstores or fortune tellers from moving to the area and setting up business, members of the Belle Glade City Commission voted to hit them where it hurts - in the pocket-book.

"We don't want them. It's that simple," said Mayor Steve Weeks, after commissioners voted Monday night to charge fortune tellers $1,500 for an occupational license.

They also agree to charge adult book/adult video entertainment establishments $500 to obtain a license and peddlers will have to come up with $375 if they want to do business in the city.

Mayor Weeks said they checked with other cities such as Sarasota and Okeechobee to see what they were charging for similar businesses and found the fees to be in line. In other business at Monday night's commission meeting, commissioners:

- Approved an ordinance providing a $5 penalty for late payment of water and sewer bills.

- Approved an ordinance proving for deletion of encroachment onto the front set back property lines

- Proclaimed September as Sickle Cell Awareness Month.

Fire limited to outside cooking area at Fat Boys Barbecue

Restaurant closed for two days; now open for business

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

A fire that started in an outside grilling area at Fat Boys Barbecue in South Bay last Friday caused the eatery to be closed for a couple of days.

The fire started just before the noon rush hour at the restaurant. No one was injured in the blaze, but the building suffered smoke damage and the outside grilling area was destroyed.

Officer Robert Drake with the South Bay Police Department said they received the call at 11:33 a.m. and since he was just across the street from the restaurant, he was one of the first on the scene.

"The entire wood building at the back was engulfed when I arrived," said Officer Drake. Firefighters arrived within three minutes and 12 employees and customers were evacuated from the business.

Officer Drake, Officer Ronnie Williams and Firefighter Russell Frank got fire hoses and began spraying down the outside wooden building and the walls of the restaurant and later volunteer firefighter Alan Davis also helped.

"Fat Boys owner Scott Berkowitz said he and his wife were out of state on vacation when the fire occurred. "We had just arrived and turned right around and drove back," he said.

It was estimated that the restaurant might be closed for up to two weeks, but Mr. Berkowitz said everyone pitched in and helped clean up and the restaurant was open for business within two days.

Fanjuls will pay sugar cane cutters $355,000

In a settlement reached this week the Fanjul-owned Okeelanta Corp. has agreed to pay cane cutters $355,000 to settle a lawsuit brought against them by Florida Rural Legal Services.

Lawyers representing 355 workers say the workers were forced to leave on Nov. 21, 1986 after a dispute over wages. According to the complaint, the men were forced to leave their labor camp, put on company buses and sent home.

The suit was filed in Palm Beach County Circuit Court and charged the company with firing the workers without just cause. The workers claimed the wage rates Okeelanta was paying for each row of cane cut were too low. They refused to work unless rates were increased.

When they were forced to leave, the workers said they were not able to get their personal belongings.

The money from the suit will be used to compensate workers for their lost belongings and for transportation costs they said they were forced to pay to get to and from Florida.

The company will also pay Florida Rural Legal Services up to $20,000 for the legal costs incurred while they represented the workers.

Billy Rogers family named "Farm Family of the Year"

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

The children of the late Billy Rogers accepted the Everglades Agricultural Area "Farm Family of the Year" award at a banquet held Sept. 7 at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge. The award is presented annually by the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau. Sammy, John L. and Tricia Rogers all still work in the farming business started by their father, Billy, in 1951. Their mother, June Rogers, was out of state and unable to attend the ceremony.

The award was presented by long-time Farm Bureau member Ray Caruthers, who said the Rogers family have given a lot to this community. "They are good neighbors," he said. "They don't seek publicity, but they give back to the community."

The late Billy Rogers came to the Glades in 1941. In the early days he was a bookkeeper for L. Walker.

He and his wife, June, moved to South Bay in 1951. Mr. Rogers started out as a bean farmer and was in partnership with John Evans, who died in 1959.

After the death of John Evans, Mr. Rogers started Billy Rogers Farms and it grew to a profitable company.

In 1980, Mr. Rogers sold the business to U.S. Sugar Corporation. When Mr. Rogers died in 1965, the children stepped in and continued their father's tradition of farming the land. In addition to Billy Rogers Corp. they formed Sundance Farms and today they grow sugar cane and corn in the Glades.

"Without a family like this, there is no way the Everglades Agricultural Area could have reached the height it has," Mr. Caruthers said. "This family has given their time, talent and their resources," he added.

"We're very pleased to be given this honor," said Sammy Rogers in a telephone interview. John L. Rogers echoed his brother's sentiments by saying "We as members of the Billy Rogers family are honored that the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau has selected us as the Farm Family of the Year."

The Rogers join a select group of families who over the years have been honored. They included the Joe Orsenigo family in 1986, the Bob Simson family in 1987, the Clarence Pate family in 1988, the Fritz Stein family in 1989, the Ruth Wedgworth family in 1990, the Clark Hall Wilkinson family in 1991, the Schlechter family in 1992, the Lewis Friend family in 1993 and last year's recipients, the J.H. Chamblee family.

It was bound to happen. Especially since this hurricane season has been unlike any other in years. Eventually, we would hear the word "Fujiwhara."

It was first mentioned about two weeks ago when three tropical systems were wandering around the Atlantic Ocean. It was brought up again last week when a record-tying four systems, three hurricanes and one tropical storm, were churning through the Atlantic. The way this hurricane season is going "Fujiwhara" is a phrase we may be hearing very often. We've seen 12 named storms so far and the hurricane season is only half over.

Fujiwhara is the name of a Japanese meteorologist who answered a question that I hear every time I visit an area classroom: what happens when two tropical systems run into each other?

Through laboratory and observational studies, this brilliant researcher came up with the answer in 1921. His discovery, which we call the "Fujiwhara Effect," seems even more remarkable considering he didn't have radar or satellite data to help in his research.

So, what does happen when two systems run into each other? Well, they do a little dance, a little do-si-do, on the square-dance floor of the ocean.

Fujiwhara discovered that when tropical storms or hurricanes of comparable size get within 900 miles of each other their wind circulations begin to steer each other in a counterclockwise direction. In other words, the storms begin to rotate around each other.

This rotating or dance can go on for some time. Usually, one of the storms weakens and eventually dissipates while the other continues on its merry way.

Our most recent example of the Fujiwhara Effect came just over one year ago. Last August, Typhoon Doug was drifting over the Yellow Sea not far from China. The hurricane abruptly stopped, turned around and headed back in the other opposite direction.

Doug reversed course because another typhoon, this one called Ellie, came calling. The two systems did a quick two-step in the Yellow Sea before Doug dissipated. It was a classic Fujiwhara effect.

Sometimes the two tropical systems will not only dance with each other but actually coalesce into one much bigger storm. The last time the merger of two hurricanes occurred was in September of last year when typhoons Ruth and Pat formed a unique partnership. Thankfully, Pat/Ruth never hit land. The storm wandered around the North Pacific for a few days before dissipating.

The Fujiwhara Effect is a rare event. It is more likely to occur in the Pacific Ocean because that body of water tends to experience more tropical systems. Until this year, multiple systems in the Atlantic were uncommon. The last time two storms did the Fujiwhara in the Atlantic was September of 1991.

The dance floor may get crowded this year. If it does, let's hope these partners keep doing their do-si-do's in the middle of the ocean.

Caring for the caregiver

Do you remember as a child if the car you were riding in came to a sudden stop or a dangerous situation arose, that your parent would reach over and put their hand out to brace and protect you from injury?

My mother and I were riding north on U.S. 27 a few weeks ago and the same thing occurred...only this time I was the one reaching out to protect her.

We just looked at each other and smiled, and suddenly became aware that our roles had changed somewhat.

Erma Bombeck spoke of a similar situation with her Alzheimer-afflicted mother and how she coped with her role change.

Being a caregiver involves giving emotional and/or physical assistance to another person. We expect to be caregivers to our children but most of us are unprepared to be caregivers to our spouses and to our parents.

All caregivers share two common concerns - to care for their loved one in their home as long as possible and to do so to the best of their abilities.

As a caregiver, you are the most important person to your loved one. If your health or well being are threatened, your loved one is in jeopardy. As a caregiver, you must recognize yourself as valuable and important. You must take the time to meet your own needs or the person who depends on you will ultimately suffer.

Some important ABC's of coping with the care-giving situation are as follows:

ASK for help. You cannot do it alone. Talk to other family members or have a family conference to decide how to help with "time off" for the caregiver or assistance with shopping, banking and other chores.

Talk with a close friend about coming over for a visit and giving you a chance to get out. Your church family might also offer their support.

Of course, some of you feel that you shouldn't have to ask for help. Unfortunately, many people don't know how to offer their assistance or just don't know what to do or are afraid of stepping on someone else's toes. If you ask them, they are usually willing and glad to be of help.

BE AWARE of your own feelings and know that it is OK to feel guilty, angry or "put upon." Having another person - even someone we love dearly - constantly depending on us is overwhelming.

Find an outlet for expressing these feelings.

If necessary, use a pillow to whack against the wall or cry and yell in the shower. Don't be afraid of expressing these feelings. They are natural and normal and you will feel better if you learn to "let off some steam."

CARE for yourself and take some "time-off" when a friend or family member can help. Take a walk or a nap, get your hair done or read a book.

Don't forget to give yourself credit for the way you improve the quality of life for your loved one.

You need to take care of yourself. After all, some day you may be the dependent one...you may need your children to take care of you (which, for some, can be a very frightening thought!).

Until next time...stay informed and stay healthy.

PORTRAIT OF AN ENVIROSHOPPER

"I do my homework."

Jim Jackson
News Anchor WPBF, Enviroshopper

Repairing items is just one of the many ways we can prevent waste. To learn more about enviroshopping and waste prevention, call the Solid Waste Authority at 930-ASAP. Because there's no time to waste.

So, what's this we hear about you being an enviroshopper?

I think of myself as an educated shopper. I use good judgement when I shop, and I do my homework which includes a little research first.

What kind of research?

Well, before I make any major purchases, I check out those consumer reference guides, you know, with the consumer satisfaction and breakdown ratings. I don't want to buy something that's going to need a lot of repair. That's why warranties are also important to me. If it does break down, I want to rest assured the manufacturer will repair it for me.

That sounds smart.

I think so. But I don't just stop there. I take care of my purchases. I follow manufacturers' suggestions, and bring appliances like my VCR and CD player in for regular maintenance services. I also periodically check my home appliances like the air conditioning filter, washer hose and dryer vent to make sure they are working efficiently. In my opinion, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Any advice for others?

By keeping your appliances and equipment well-maintained, you end up saving money in the long run, and when products last, there's less waste created overall.

Patrons to get a show of appreciation.

Residents are encouraged to make their weekend an unforgettable one by joining Actors' Community Theatre thespians in their season premier of comedy as they host a champagne party for advertisers, angels and patrons of the arts this coming Saturday night, Sept.

23, at the John B. Boy Auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

As a show of appreciation to the merchants and patrons who have supported the arts throughout A.C.T.'s long history in the Glades, the organization has put together four one-act comedies which will be performed while guests and box office patrons relax at candlelit tables, sip champagne or coffee and indulge themselves on rich desserts.

Special invitations are being sent to advertisers and angels, but the general public is invited to join the party.

Box office tickets are $5 and may be purchased at the door between 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

News from the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center and Palm Beach Community College

By Maria Wise Miller

The look of the Fabulous Glades Campus of Palm Beach Community College has been a source of pride to the community. Drive by today, and you will see the beginnings of the new addition to the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center that soon will be another source of pride for the Glades.

This 3,000 square foot addition to the lobby area of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center will provide space for visiting museum exhibits, artist gallery space, reception hall, special events and more.

"This space will be very elegant and will provide greater flexibility in the types of events the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center and the Glades Campus can host," said Dr. Helen Franke, provost, Fabulous Glades Campus of Palm Beach Community College. "We will be able to enhance our academics by bringing in museum exhibits as well as providing space to show student and faculty works. Special events such as the honoring of outstanding students, guest lecturers, and more will be hosted in the Dolly Hand," she added.

For the community at large, the new facility will be available for business meetings and luncheons, social gatherings such as weddings, civic group's special events and fundraising and more.

The cultural programs at the theatre will be enhanced with lobby area for refreshments during intermission as well as some new events including the possibility of special "dinners before the theatre." The idea would be to offer unique catered dinners prior to performances. For example, if the performance was a play that took place in Paris, the dinner before the event would be a sumptuous French feast. Other possibilities include the now popular mystery dinner theatres.

The building itself is designed in an open atrium style with floor to ceiling glass walls, copper roof and sculptured tile floors. The completion date is this fall.

Patrons attending the first show of the season, "The Tap Dance Kid" on Nov. 9, will get a sneak preview of the building addition. Because the new construction is outside, the main theatre area is not affected and remains open using the side entrances.

Tickets for the 1995-96 season are on sale now but with special hours and location. Please call the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at 992-6160 for ticket information.

The Fabulous Glades Campus also kicked-off a new fall semester with increased registrations again over last year. "I am delighted to report that our enrollment is up and our faculty and staff are very welcoming new and returning students. We are very service oriented and work with our students to provide quality higher education right here in the Glades," said Dr. Franke.

Education is the key to success. Don't let it pass you by. Call the Fabulous Glades Campus of Palm Beach Community College and "Catch the Wave of Success."

Story time...Belle Glade's Mayor Steve Weeks took time out of his busy schedule to read to Betty Nason's kindergarten class at Belle Glade Elementary last Friday. Friday was International Literacy Day and many local celebrities gave of their time to read to students.

Attention Okeechobee waterway users

Due to continuing high lake levels on Lake Okeechobee, an increasing amount of floating vegetation has been entering the Moore Haven Lock and spillway structure on the Okeechobee Waterway. As a preventative measure, a barrier cable will be installed by Sept. 15 across the rim canal northwest of Moore Haven Recreation Village (Lamasters Marina), at culvert 5-A, approximately 1.5 miles northwest of Moore Haven Lock.

Boaters are advised to avoid the barrier by following Moore Haven Cut to Lake Okeechobee. The barrier will remain in place until conditions improve. Boaters cooperation is requested during this period to help maintain navigational safety.

"I read in The Sun where the city commissioners in Belle Glade voted whether or not to give themselves a raise recently.

I think your readers should know who voted for or against the raises and what reasons did they give?

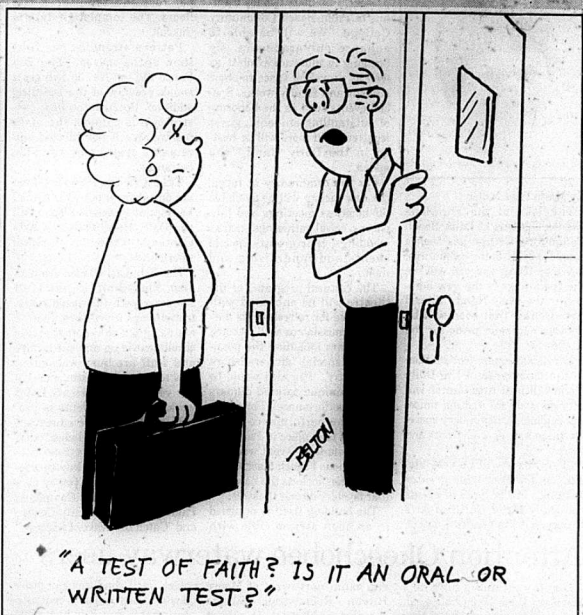

Enquiring minds want to know. Thank you."

Editor's note: At a budget workshop meeting two weeks ago, City Manager Lomax Harrelle noted that the tentative budget included a $500 raise for each of the city commissioners. He said he had taken it upon himself to include this in the budget because the commissioners were working very hard and were going to be working even harder in the future because the city has many projects which will need their attention.

Commissioner Crate "Happy" Tucker spoke up first and said he did not want a raise. He said he did not take the job to earn a lot of money, but to serve the citizens of Belle Glade. Mayor Weeks agreed with those sentiments. Commissioner Harma Miller said the commission salary did not begin to cover her out-of-pocket expenses as a representative for the city and she was for the increase. Commissioner Daniel S. Bythwood also wanted the increase. Commissioner Rodney "Clay" Connell, who spoke last, said he also did not want a raise. He said he also could not agree to a pay increase. The consensus was not to accept the pay increase.

Currently, Mayor Steve Weeks is paid $8,112 yearly, Vice-mayor Harma Miller makes $7,436 and the remaining commissioners each make $6,760.

Communication about illegal teen drinking important

Dear Editor:

The beginning of the new academic year is a time of challenges and anticipation, for parents as well as students.

As parents ourselves, we at Bernie Little Distributors, south-central Florida's distributorship of Anheuser-Busch beers, share other parent's concerns for our children's well-being as we send them off to school in the morning or off to college for an entire semester.

Now is the ideal time for parents to take some time to address the issue of illegal underage drinking. This is an important and often difficult topic to discuss.

To give parents help, Bernie Little Distributors offers "Family Talk About Drinking" available free to those who call 1-800-TALK. This program, developed with authorities from the fields of alcohol research, child education and family counseling, provides practical guidelines for building self-esteem and helping prevent underage drinking before it starts.

Education and awareness efforts are working. Underage drinking and teenage drunk driving fatalities continue to decline. According to the U.S. Department of Transportation, teen drunk driving fatalities are down a dramatic 64 percent since 1982. As parents, we can all help continue these positive trends through honest, open communication about alcohol beverages with our kids.

Sincerely,

Frank E. Dardis

The Adjutant General of Florida

This Sept. 16 marks the 430th anniversary of the militia in Florida, and it is from this date the Florida National Guard traces its heritage.

Sixteenth-century Florida was contested ground between Spain, England and France; because the nation that could control the peninsula could control the shipping routes (and hence the flow of gold) between the New World and Europe.

But it took more than expeditionary force to control the New World; settlers were necessary to make a military colony successful.

It was on that September day in 1565 that the newly-arrived settlers in St. Augustine defended their presidio, while the Spanish regulars marched north to defeat the French at Fort Caroline.

From that day forward, the militia in Florida has been continuously headquartered in St. Augustine, the nation's oldest city.

Today, the Florida National Guard does so much more than did the Spaniard militiaman. As first Spain, the then Britain and Spain again, ruled Florida. The militia were used primarily as a home defense force. Rarely did they campaign far from hearth or home.

But as the new American revolution necessitated, the militia became a world-class fighting force. And that same American militia fought the War of 1812, the Civil War, the Indian Wars, and supplied the great bulk of the Army that fought World Wars One and Two, and the Persian Gulf War.

Now the Florida National Guard, this state's militia, is a vital part of the reserve component of the nation's Army and Air Force.

The Florida Army National Guard has one of the Army's only 13 light infantry brigades; six of the 13 are in the active component, the other seven are in the Army National Guard.

The Florida Air National Guard currently defends the nation's airspace, from Jacksonville to Key West to Pensacola.

Within two years, the Florida Air National Guard will be responsible for the entire southeast U.S. air defense sector, from Virginia to Texas.

We, your state militia, fly attack helicopters, operate the signal networks, and provide the logistics support for the total Army and Air Force.

This nation depends on the National Guard.

We also provide Florida with a military force that the governor can count on, whether for hurricane relief, or to support to law enforcement in the war on drugs, or return calm to the city streets.

We provide the state's Rapid Impact Assessment Teams the transportation and communication that make it possible for the state to respond to a catastrophic disaster. We fly marijuana eradication missions for the county sheriffs. We've been on the streets when needed, to help law enforcement and to protect neighborhoods.

Then as now though, the militia is made of citizen soldiers. Thirteen thousand Floridians serve in the National Guard, out of a state with 13 million residents. Florida guardsmen are truly one in a thousand!

We're in 56 communities in the state, from Homestead to Pensacola. We are involved in each of these cities and towns, helping to educate our youth about the dangers of drugs, assist anti-drug coalitions, and perform many other volunteer services. We add value to Florida.

There have been some changes to the United States' militia system over the past 200 years. Today the question of unorganized or private militia is talked about. This is not a new issue -- the reason the current National Guard militia system evolved is due to past lessons the nation learned.

We need a militia system that can respond to federal needs, that can serve the commander-in-chief.

Were it not for the support of the United States, most state militia would not be capable of equipping its units or manning its roles.

This National Guard system ensures that a well-trained and well-equipped fighting force can fulfill both its state and federal role. This is the role of the organized militia.

As to the unorganized militia, there is still provision for a state defense force, if needed. Such was the case in World War II, when the Florida National Guard mobilized in 1940, and left the state in 1942.

My father served what was then known as the Florida State Guard, and his discharge certificate hangs on my office wall.

Should such a force ever be needed again, it could be called by the governor, and would report up under the state agency I head as the Adjutant General of Florida, the Department of Military Affairs.

The future of the militia should be bright. Yes, like the active Army and Air Force, the National Guard is downsizing. We in Florida will continue to feel the effects of winning the Cold War.

But it is important to remember that as the active components become smaller, the reserve components such as the National Guard, become increasingly more important to the defense of the nation.

What we began on the beach at St. Augustine 430 years ago is just as important today. The militia in Florida is still here, to protect both the vital national interests, to serve the state, and to support the community.

We're a lot more engaged than were those first Spanish settlers, but we are no less the citizens and equally the soldier.

We are the Florida National Guard, your citizen-soldiers, your organized militia.

Hosing it down...South Bay Police Officer Robert Drake mans a fire hose to wet down Fat Boy's Barbecue after an outside grill caught fire and burned the back side of the building. No one was injured in the blaze and the restaurant is now open for business.

Going in...A South Bay firefighter is fitted with an oxygen tank as he prepares to enter Fat Boys Barbecue in South Bay to check for fire. Fire and Police Chief Charles Napier watches the procedure.

Speak Out

Forget race

"I'm speaking out about the caller who was angry because the city didn't hire PIC (Private Industry Council) workers this summer.

The caller states, and I quote 'I personally feel that if poor white children qualified for summer jobs the city would be more than glad to make all the necessary accommodations to take them on.'

I thought that PIC was a program for poor children, not poor, black children and not poor white children?

Poor is poor. It doesn't matter if you're black or white. I think part of the problem with our city is that we keep dividing it further and further with a racial thing.

Let's forget about race for a change and let's just remember that we're all citizens in this small community. We've got to band together and let's quit harping on race."

small fee to help pay for a person to work and collect the payments for the company. This is legal. My only suggestion is to pay by mail and avoid this service charge and the long lines. Thank you for speaking out.

Coverage isn't fair

"I'm a student at Glades Central and I was looking at your newspaper this week.

I only see people from Glades Day School. I wanted to know why don't you have people in the paper from Glades Central, like the cheerleaders?

Yea, I see you put the football team, but you didn't go to the basketball games that we had last year.

You just announce the football team and who we played against, but you show no pictures and I don't think that's fair of you all just choosing Glades Day School and showing pictures of their fans and cheerleaders and all their sports activities.

Glades Central has everything Glades Day has. There's no difference except that's a private school...and I just wanted to Speak Out and just say, are you guys prejudiced or something?

We're all people and I just wanted to know, why this isn't being done fairly?"

Editor's response: Thank you for calling. We want you to know your voice is heard at The Sun. We would also like to explain to our readers that we are trying very hard to get ALL the schools covered, but it is difficult.

We must tell you that we have great cooperation from Glades Day School and all of the great pictures and football write-ups you are seeing are provided by two of the students at the school. We are looking for a student or parent to cover Glades Central sports.

Currently, we have someone covering Glades Central and Pahokee High School, but unfortunately, their photos are not turning out.

We are working on these problems and hope you will be patient with us. We have the GCCHS cheerleaders picture and it will run next week. We are having problems coordinating the volleyball photos, band and flag corps, but look for those also in the next few weeks.

Girl Scout Roundup

Girl Scouts in the Glades area are getting ready to kick off another year. Parents who want their daughter to participate in a Girl Scout troop this year should attend the First Annual Girl Scout Roundup on Monday, Sept. 18, at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in the cafeteria.

Some of the local leaders will be on hand to give more information on what girls do at the Girl Scout meetings and girls will be placed in troops on a first come, first serve basis.

For additional information, call the Palm Glades Girl Scout Council at 1-800-432-1453.

West County Mental Health Golf Tournament is coming up
The West County Mental Health Clinic is hosting its 8th Annual Golf Tournament to benefit Children's Mental Health Services. The event will be at the Belle Glade Municipal Golf Course on Saturday, Sept. 23.

The proceeds from these tournaments are used to benefit the children in the Glades. To participate, or to be a sponsor, call the West County Mental Health Clinic at 992-1330.

Rosenwald's Literacy Day celebration a success

Rosenwald, was inundated with a levy of celebrities as International Literacy Day was being observed.

September is National Literacy Month. Darlene Kostrub of the Palm Beach County Literacy Coalition shared that in addition to the county commission proclaiming the month as Palm Beach County Literacy Month, the coalition also named September 8th as "Read With Me Day."

Schools were urged to participate by having celebrities invited in to read to students. The purpose being, to show how important reading was in their own lives. The coalition wishes to spread the message of the importance to begin the school year reading as a family, to students and parents.

On Sept. 8, Rosenwald Elementary School had special guests who came to the school in order to read to the students in honor of Literacy Day. Among the readers were:

Mr. Frank Russell (Firefighter Frank) of South Bay Fire Department who read to Exceptional Education and D.O.P. classes; Chief Charlie Napier of South Bay Police Department and retired teacher Mrs. Doris Harrell who read to selected individual students; South Bay City Clerk Virginia Walker read to kindergarten students; Mayor Clarence Anthony read to first grade students; Officer Robert Drake read to second grade students; Banana Boat Restaurant owner Mr. Pierre Thieren of West Palm Beach read to third grade students; retired teacher Josephine Harrison read to fourth grade students; Owner of Realty and Investment Ventures Mr. James Houston, III, and former Rosenwald Elementary Student and present Harvard student Sharon Richards read to fifth grade students.

By the community and elected officials expressing their interest in the youth and giving the children something to look forward to, Literacy Day at Rosenwald Elementary School was a success.

Getting down to the child's level... Reading to Mrs. Joie Boone's first-grade class in celebration to honor Literacy Day, Sept. 8, at Rosenwald Elementary School is Mayor Clarence Anthony.

HIPPY orientation to be held at Rosenwald September 14

The Home Instruction Program for Preschool Youngsters (HIPPY) will hold its orientation night on Thursday, Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. in Rosenwald Elementary's school cafeteria.

HIPPY is a prekindergarten early intervention program which prepares children for school readiness where the focus is on the child's interaction within the home setting.

HIPPY focuses on the child's interaction within the home setting.

HIPPY materials are delivered to the home each week by a trained parent educator.

HIPPY packets and materials are free.

HIPPY parents make a commitment to work with their child 15 minutes per day.

Assistance with registration will be provided. Parents of children not already enrolled at Rosenwald are asked to bring their child's birth certificate with them to the orientation.

Weekly home visits are made by trained parent educators who are women from the community who have a unique appreciation and understanding of the community.

There is no cost to parents. Books and materials are free and available in both English and Spanish.

Monthly meetings are to be attended by all HIPPY parents. It is a time when families can come together to listen to speakers of diverse backgrounds. Afterward parents enjoy making crafts to take home.

Parents who have a child who is 4 years old as of Sept. 1 are encouraged to register their preschooler. Refreshments will be served at orientation.

Rosenwald Elementary was the first school in Palm Beach County to have the HIPPY program and it continues to thrive into its third year.

HIPPY: CREATING A TOMORROW THAT BELONGS TO EVERYONE

Williams

Willie Williams, 90, died Monday, Sept. 4, 1995 at Martin Memorial South in Stuart, FL.

Mr. Williams was the son of John Thomas Williams and Mahala Williams who preceded him in death. He was born at Ocoila, FL on July 25, 1905. He was married to Mrs. Bessie Smith and later moved to New Jersey. He was a member of St. James Baptist Church of Belvidere, New Jersey and then moved home to live with his children.

Surviving are: daughters - Mrs. Mahala Garland and Mrs. Gladys Warren; friend, Mrs. Marion Polk of New Jersey; stepdaughters - Mrs. Elaine Davis, Mrs. Earline Johnson, Mrs. Sarah Edwards, and Lulu Denny; stepson, Cornelius Graham; seventeen grandchildren; thirty-two great grandchildren; one great grandchild; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Sept. 9, 1995 at 2 p.m. in the New Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church, Pahokee with Rev. John H. Barrett, pastor, officiating. Interment followed in the Port Mayaca Cemetery, Port Mayaca.

Taylor-Smith-West Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

83 years 'young'

Mrs. Carmina Murray and Mrs. Irene Salmon met in 1991 as Mrs. Murray, a nurse, cared for Mrs. Salmon's husband in the Hope Hospice.

Mrs. Murray visited Mrs. Salmon on several occasions in her home after the loss of her husband.

After getting to know each other the two women found that they each were born on Tuesday, Sept. 9, 1912. "Neither one of us know what time we were born, said the two ladies.

They now celebrate their birthday together each year. "We will be friends as long as we are alive," Mrs. Carmina Murray also recently celebrated her 55 year wedding anniversary on Sept. 7.

Swiss Scientists Discover New Energy Product

Lugano, Switzerland—After 25 years of research Lightning 88 was developed with the help of Swiss Laboratories. After extensive testing with amazing results, Lightning 88 is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at Lightning 88's results on improved memory, attitude and athletic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, Lightning 88 was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astonishing. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

This new discovery has been a wind-fall for working and active people that seem to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift. Lightning 88 when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a beaucian stated, "I used to go home exhausted after being on my feet all day. Now it's just incredible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more." Lightning 88 is a necessary boost for students, professionals and senior citizens.

Lightning 88 is now available at most K-Mart Pharmacies including:

Pahokee "Wee Deliver" in school postal system

By Mrs. Randi Shietz

Students at Pahokee Elementary are learning how to write letters by using an in-school post office. The "Wee Deliver" program is a national program designed by the U.S. Post Office to promote literacy and to teach students the value of work and job responsibility. Pahokee Elementary School is starting its student-operated post office for the second year.

The students completed applications and took a school version of a postal exam. Qualified candidates were then required to come for an interview. Students wore suits or dresses to the interviews. Jonathan Wallace, our sixth grade Postmaster, even carried a briefcase. Many students prepared typed resumes.

Approximately 70 students representing grades 1-6 were chosen to be postal employees. They work on a rotating schedule allowing many students to hold positions. Students who did not receive a job will have the opportunity to apply again after the first report cards. The students work in such positions as postmaster, stamp canceller, mail carriers, and even stamp vendors. The stamp vendors sell our stamps that were designed by students last year for one penny. They have recently added the sale of greeting cards and gifts to their service.

The school is divided into different towns and streets which have all been named after stars. Each hallway is a different town with its own zip code and each classroom is a different street. The mail carriers are assigned their own mail route. One of the mail carriers that was just hired is a visually impaired student. He delivers mail with a partner. Braille nameplates have been placed on all of the classroom doors in that hallway. Braille cards are also placed on all of the bundles of mail that he delivers.

Church continues to celebrate!

The Canal Point United Methodist Church is celebrating their 75th Anniversary during this year. During this past weekend, the church held a 75th Anniversary / Homecoming Weekend that was clearly the highlight of all celebrations, so far this year.

Nearly 200 persons attended the weekend's activities, which included the Sunday worship celebration, gospel sing, Dennis Wagner concert, an old-fashioned covered dish dinner, and two homemade ice cream feasts. In addition, a special time of remembrance was held on Saturday afternoon, to reflect on the countless ways God had blessed the church family during its 75 year history. During this time, some of the congratulatory letters from church members, friends, and public officials, were read. Governor Chiles' grandfather was an early Methodist circuit rider in Florida, and this gave his personal greetings an extra dimension for the church family. Since Canal Point has long been known as a sugar town, Robert Coker's letter from U.S. Sugar was very meaningful.

The theme for last weekend's celebration was God's faithfulness to the church in Canal Point. Mrs. Bertha Mae Ennis, 101 years old, was recognized as the oldest member of the church family. As they watched a video of her singing, an old-time favorite, "Count your Many Blessings" in a strong vibrant voice, the entire church family was touched with awe.

Our youngest member, Jazmine Marie Morales Sears, six months old, also attended every event. During every celebration, a time was included to remember how God has empowered the church family to be a vital witness for Him, and a constant source of God's love and grace in the Glades.

It was recognized, over and over, that throughout its 75 year history, this has only been possible through God's provision and enablement. Yes, there is much to celebrate in Canal Point United Methodist Church, and the celebration continues this weekend, as Dr. John Simon, the West Palm Beach District Superintendent, arrives at 10:45 a.m. There will be many of the church family in the dress of the early 1920's, as we remember those early settlers, and the circuit pastors who ministered to them. After the 10:45 a.m. Worship Celebration, there will be an old-fashioned covered dish dinner. The Glades community is invited to come and share our celebration.

Gators win a 13-7 battle

By Eddie Campbell

A lot of adjectives could be used to describe last Friday's game between Glades Day and American Heritage in Plantation, but one noun best fits the game - war.

The first quarter was a show of defenses for each team. The scoreboard at the end of the first quarter showed this with each team putting up doughnuts.

In the second quarter the Gators took a risk on a fourth and six and succeeded with Jackie Garrett passing to Farris Shatara for 16 yards. On the next play, Lee Sweet ran from four yards out and the Gators got on the scoreboard first 7-0.

Junior cornerback Heath Norman intercepted a Heritage pass which shut down a Heritage drive. This interception kept Heritage from throwing the ball too many more times on the night.

The score at halftime was 7-0, Gators.

The second half for the Gators started off on a bad note with a Gator fumble on the kickoff and Heritage recovering it on the Gator 30-yard line. Heritage capitalized on the turnover with a touchdown to tie the score at 7-7.

The Gators were constantly putting pressure on the Heritage punter all night and finally Patrick Altman broke through the line and blocked a punt which was recovered by the Gators on the Heritage 40-yard line. Lee Sweet then took a Garrett handoff and flew 40 yards for a touchdown. The Gators failed to convert the point and this left the score at 13-7.

With Heritage's inability to pass in the first half, they decided to line up with two tight ends and a power-I backfield and played smashmouth football in the second half.

With numerous full back traps and toss sweeps to Heritage tailback Dwayne Watson, Heritage had some success against the Gator defense but they were never able to break a big play.

Heritage had one last chance to score, but with 1:01 left in the fourth quarter, they failed on a fourth down, which sealed the Gator win.

Offensive coordinator Pete Walker said after the game, "It seems we didn't take the field with the same enthusiasm we had last week, but championship teams find a way to win when things are tough. This is a sign of a good team."

Glades Central Raiders gain 21-17 victory over Spanish River Sharks

By Brandt Bates

Well they finally got the 'D' back into my name and I have an idea from whence it came. The Raiders seemed to have their hands full Friday night with the Spanish River Sharks and their potent option attack. It also didn't help that the Raiders Offensive and Defensive leaders, Faide Musalet and Teddy Simms respectively, were nursing various injuries. Simms dressed out and attempted to work through his injury and Musalet didn't dress. The Raiders won the toss and deferred to the second half. The Sharks took possession on their own 20 and on the first play, the Sharks halfback went off right tackle for a 20 yard gain that would set the tone for the night. The Sharks would stall at midfield after a motion penalty and a few short runs and punt.

On the ensuing punt return, Raiders receiver Dan Brown had some trouble fielding the punt, leaving the Raiders starting at their own 3 yard line.

On first down Quarterback Brad Banks, starting in the place of Musalet, was sacked in the end zone for a safety and the first points of the night for the sharks. With the Raiders kicking off from their own 20 yard line, the Sharks were left in good position at about midfield with about 8 minutes left in the first quarter. On first down the Sharks ran the option right with the QB keeping it for about a 15 yard gain. The Sharks moved the ball down to the Raiders 30 yard line before fumbling as the Raiders Ricky Bailey recovered.

The Raiders Michael Bryant took the first handoff for about a 4 yard gain off right tackle followed by Andre Bryant and a 5 yard gain through the same hole. On third and 1, the Raiders went to the air with a pass attempt by Banks to Grant that was a little long, forcing the Raiders to punt.

Dominick Denson came on to punt for the Raiders placing one inside the 20. There was a penalty on the play against the Raiders, but the Sharks declined. The Sharks took over at about their own 20 yard line and began driving the ball downfield using the option to perfection.

At times I wondered if Turner

Gill was under center for the Sharks, but I was later told it was QB/DB Jason Galtiers. I still have my doubts.

The Sharks seemed to remain one step ahead of the Raiders defense all night, when the Raiders stuffed the middle the Sharks went around end, when the Raiders jammed the ends the Sharks went to the fullback up the middle. The only thing that seemed to stop the Sharks were their own mistakes, which brings us back to the Sharks fullback fumbling the ball as he was headed into the endzone. The Raiders recovered the ball at the 2 yard line with about 5 minutes left before the half.

Friday night football frenzy!

Determined faces...The Gators Varsity team was unsmiling as they moved onto the field for their game against American Heritage last Friday night. The Gators knew they had a tough game, but they were victorious! Shown, front to back are Matthew Snow (#88), John Coursen, (#80), Jared Davis, (#45) and Justin Hamilton.

Blue Devils on a roll

By Robbie Everett

The scene again was Kettler Field. The victim was the Forest Hill Falcons. The Blue Devils rolled up 20 points in the first quarter with touchdowns by Linwood Johnson, Lefann Williams and an interception run back by Henry Pickens. The Devils defense was again in top form. The first quarter ended with an interception by Roland

Jackson.

Freshman quarterback Anquan Boldin and running back Lefann Williams teamed up for several long runs resulting in another score for Pahokee. Kicker Linwood Johnson put Forest Hill deep in their own territory on the 12 yard line.

Pahokee's next possession resulted in another score by Lefann Williams with Victor Rodriguez adding the extra point. The Falcons were again stacked by Devil defenders after a long kick.

Pahokee's final score of the first half was another Bolin and Williams combination. Lefann ran 34, 8, and 2 yards before charging in for the touchdown. The Falcons were held to minus yards in the first half.

Picking winners is easy when your husband's a football fanatic

Hattie Bennett with Barnett Bank is the top dog in the Pigskin Predictions this week, with a score of 18 correct picks out of 20. Hattie got 10 out of 10 right this week.

Hattie said it's easy to pick winners when you watch as much football as she does. She says her husband, Johnnie, is a football fanatic. He's been known to channel surf and try to watch three games...all at one time.

Hattie says she also enjoys football if the game is tight. "I'll read or crochet and glance up at the games if they're good," she says. "I probably am doing well because I know as much as all the guys."

Hattie says it's a great feeling to be in the lead this week, but close on her heels is Earl Wingate with Bernie Little and Mike Burkett with Lake Hardware. Both men are 17-3 after Mike also had a perfect 10 score this week and Earl came up with 9 out of 10 correct picks.

Robert Archer with First Community Bank took some teasing last week with his 5 incorrect picks. This week, Robert said he picked with his head, not of his heart. "I guess I'll have to continue to do that if I want to win," he says.

Next week, Pahokee, Glades Day and the Miami Hurricanes have the week off, so our contestants will only have seven teams to predict.

Glades Central 21, Spanish River 17

The Sharks were accomplishing a number of things with their running attack. They were keeping the Raiders defense on the field and they were keeping the Raiders offense off the field, leaving the Raiders potent 1-2 punch of Andre and Michael Bryant watching helplessly from the sidelines. After the fumble, the Raiders took over and on first down Andre Bryant took the draw for a gain on 6.

On second down Andre's number was called again for a gain of about 3 leaving the Raiders a third and 1. The Sharks would doubly regret their turnover on the following play as Michael Bryant took off on a 90+ yard scamper, leaving the Sharks DB's searching for their shoes afterwards.

Kicker Gerald Louis converted on the P.A.T. Louis, who in the previous week converted a number of penalty lengthened P.A.T.s, remains a consistent factor for the Raiders. The score was 7-2 with about 3 minutes left before the half.

On the ensuing kickoff, Gill,

Uh I mean Gaithers, just about broke one but had to "Gaither" the ball in as one of the Raiders coverage men almost stripped the ball away. Gaithers seemed to be a one man show wearing the QB and safety hats for the Sharks.

After Gaithers had returned the kickoff into the Raiders territory, he handed off to the fullback for a gain of 5 on first down leaving the Sharks at second and 5 from the he Raiders 45.

On second down, Gaithers continued his magic act on the option keeper for a gain of about 25 yards, moving the Sharks to the Raiders 20 with about 2 minutes remaining until halftime. On first down, the Sharks were hit with a motion penalty leaving them at first and fifteen which was followed by a short gain bringing up second and thirteen. On second down the Sharks attempted a reverse that was stuffed by Howard Hepburn leaving the Sharks facing third and 20. The Sharks offense would stall and the Raiders would run out the clock.

Halftime Raiders 7, Sharks 2. The Raiders received the second half kickoff and started at their own 20 yard line. On first down they attempted a counter play but there was some confusion in the backfield and the play was stopped for a loss.

On second down, Michael Bryant went off right tackle for a seven yard gain, leaving the Raiders at third and 5.

On third down the Raiders went to a one back set as Banks attempted to hit Grant on the slant, but Grant was met by a Shark defender and the pass fell incomplete, forcing the Raiders to punt. After a short punt by Denson the Sharks took over in good field position and began right where they left off marching the ball downfield methodically. It was time for someone to step up on the Raiders defense and that someone was Anton McCants. After a combined hit by the Raiders Leslie Straker and LaVante Chastine the Sharks QB fumbled the ball into the hands of McCants who took off on about a 70 yard return, separating himself from would be Sharks tacklers throughout. That score would be one of the turning points of the game and help the sputtering offense, bringing the score to 14-2 Raiders with the third quarter almost over. On the ensuing kickoff, Straker followed up his hit parade with another devastating blow on the Sharks kick return, as the sound from the crash was heard all over the field. The Sharks though would strike right back as Gaithers marched the ball into Raider territory.

After a leaping tackle by Teddy Simms on third down and a generous spot on fourth and 1 by the refs, Gaithers would score on the option keeper bringing the score 14-9 Raiders at the end of the third.

Gaithers wasn't finished there though, because on the Raiders next possession he would pick off Banks returning the ball to the Sharks at mid-field. The Sharks would begin driving the ball downfield once more with a combination of Gaithers outside and the full-back inside. The Sharks didn't attempt a pass all night, which had the Raiders corners cheating up on the run.

Outtaious Pittman came through with a solid hit on Gaithers followed by another bruising hit by Lavante Chastine that sent Gaithers to a position where he could not hurt the Raiders, the Sharks bench. Gaithers though didn't seem to be seriously hurt and returned to the game shortly thereafter.

The Sharks sent in another QB to spell Gaithers, moving the Sharks down to about the Raiders 80 yard line. After the relief QB moved the ball down to the Raiders 9, Gaithers returned as the Sharks were facing first and goal from the 9.

On first down the Sharks went to the fullback for a gain of 4, followed by a Gaither run of 4 on second leaving the Sharks at third and goal from the 2 yard line. Gaithers attempted a dive over the top on third but was stopped short.

On fourth down Gaithers called his own number again and this time was successful and the Shark took a 17-14 lead after converting the 2-

THE SUN, Thursday, September 14, 1995, 3-B point P.A.T. with about 5 minutes remaining in the game.

The Raiders inserted Michael Bryant on the ensuing kickoff as a returner and it paid off as the Raiders ended up with good field position. Banks would come in and regain his composure and after a couple of nice gainers by the Bryants, Banks would hit Percy Johnson on the slant leaving the Raiders inside the Sharks 20 yard line with about 2 minutes left in the game.

Michael Bryant moved the ball down to about the 2 yard line with a couple of bruising runs through the Sharks defense. Banks then scored on the QB keeper and Louis followed up with the P.A.T. making the score 21-17.

The Sharks would move the ball downfield, but the clock seemed to be their major enemy and they ran out of time.

With Olympic Heights coming up next week, a team with a much more potent option attack and the use of the forward pass, it's time to buckle up the chin straps and put on that extra tape.

Raider's Offensive player of the week... is #27 Michael Bryant who scored first touchdown.

Gator's Athlete of the week... #21 Brad Seider, 12th grade, RB-LB.

and Defensive player... is #33 Ronnie Frapp.

Gator's Offensive players of the week... are Offensive tackles #68 Rhiel White and #70 Thomas Meeks. White & Meeks are both Junior tackles who did a nice job blocking for Glades Day against Heritage.

Gator's Offensive players of the week... are Offensive tackles #68 Rhiel White and #70 Thomas Meeks. White & Meeks are both Junior tackles who did a nice job blocking for Glades Day against Heritage.

Raider's Athlete of the Week... is #34 Lavante Chastine.

Raider's Defensive player of the week... is #39. Teddy Simms who played with an injury this week.

Coach Perez chose Brad Seider as the Athlete of the Week for the Sept. 8 game. Brad had 17 tackles on defense in the game against American Heritage. The 17-year-old senior is the son of Jay and Diana Seider of Belle Glade. Brad is 6' 3" and weighs 220 pounds. He is a linebacker and also plays fullback and tight end.

Brad had this to say about the game of football: "I like the game day excitement and the competition, plus the contest is like no other." He said his goal this year is to help his team win the state championship.

The coach chose Senior Ronnie Frapp as the Unsung Hero of the Week. He said Ronnie made some really good open field tackles, especially on the bullet punting team. "Ronnie hung tough and made some good plays," said the coach.

Ronnie is 5'7" and weighs 160 pounds. He is a receiver, and also plays defensive back.

"I enjoy the competition and the hitting," says Ronnie. He looks ahead to the goal of getting to the state championship game and coming home a winner.

Errors plague GDS Girl's Varsity Volleyball team this week

Calling a spade a spade, Glades Day School Head Volleyball Coach Rita Schoenfeld says too many errors lost her team the game to St. Edwards this week.

The Gators played St. Edwards at home on Sept. 5. The girls won the first game, 15-6; and then went on to lose the next two, 13-15 and 7-15.

The girls played a hard match, but we made too many errors, says Ms. Schoenfeld. "We are still trying to find the right mix on the court. This will come within the next few weeks," she added.

The highlight of the first game was when Melissa Tucker came in and served nine straight points, helping the team win the opening game.

High scorers included Melissa Tucker with nine service points and three aces. Ashley Curtis also gave a good showing with four kills, three service points and two aces.

Most Improved Offensive Player:

Melissa Tucker
"Her serving helped us win the first games," said Coach Schoenfeld.

Melissa is the daughter of Crate "Happy" and Alicia Tucker of Belle Glade. The 15-year-old junior says she enjoys volleyball because "it teaches me self-discipline and how to cooperate with others as well as having a chance to have fun with my friends."

She said she hopes to improve her skills as a player and wants her team to go as far as possible.

Most Improved Defensive Player:

Erin Meadows

Coach Schoenfeld said she chose Erin as the defensive player this week because she had three solo blocks in the second game against St. Edwards.

The 5'5" junior is the daughter of Junior and Linda Meadows of South Bay. She says she likes the team spirit on the varsity volleyball team. "We both get and give encouragement to each other," she notes.

Erin's goal for this year is to see her team go to the state playoffs.

The girls varsity team played again Thursday night against King's Academy in an away game. They lost 8-15 and 7-15, but Coach Schoenfeld said the first game was closer than the score indicated. "Even though the game scores were not close, the first game of the match was closer than the score indicates," she said. "In the second game of the match, one girl got seven straight points on her serve against us. This was the difference in the game. We were not able to break her serve."

The high scoring player was Laura Shiver with six service points, two aces and one kill. Coach Schoenfeld picked Fida Mussallet as the Most Improved Defensive Player. "She has six digs that helped us stay in the match," noted the coach. Most Improved Offensive Player was Tamam Barhoush, who had three service points, one ace and two kills in the game against King's Academy.

Fida is the daughter of Rashima Mussallet of Belle Glade. She is 18 and a senior at Glades Day.

"I enjoy the sport and the encouragement the players give to each other," she said. Fida hopes here team will accomplish a winning record and be one of the top teams in the district this year.

Tamam Barhoush is the 16-year-old daughter of Dr. Ahmed and Samar Barhoush of Belle Glade. The 5'6" junior said she enjoys volleyball because it is a team sport, "so you have to not only be aware of what you are doing, but also five other people on the court. It is also lots of fun," she said.

Tamam hopes to see her team get as far as they can this year. "We are just starting to get used to each other, so we are improving a lot day by day," she notes.

One win, one loss for GDS Junior Varsity Girls Volleyball

The Junior Varsity Girls Volleyball team at Glades Day School won one and lost one this week.

The Gators won their home game against St. Edwards with a score of 15-4 and 15-8. The lost their game to King's Academy in an away game with a score of 13-15 and 8-15.

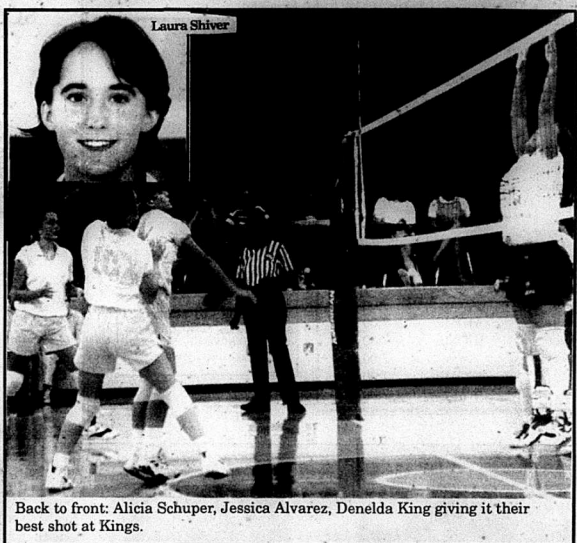

Ashley Cunningham and Courtney Braddock were the high scorers in the St. Edwards game and Courtney was again picked out for her four service points and two kills.

"The girls played good matches for the week," says Assistant Coach Barbara Scruggs.

Junior High team wins home game

The Junior High Gator Girl's Volleyball team won a home game against Summit Christian this past week with scores of 15-4 and 15-13. April Hart and Miranda Humphries were the high scoring players with April scoring 8 points and five aces. Miranda scored 7 service points and seven aces and Evelyn Fabelo was also noted for her five service points and four aces.

Next week, the Gator girls will play Clewiston Middle School at home and Berean Christian.

Blue Devils 39, Forest Hill Falcons 6

The first half ended with the score 30 to 0.

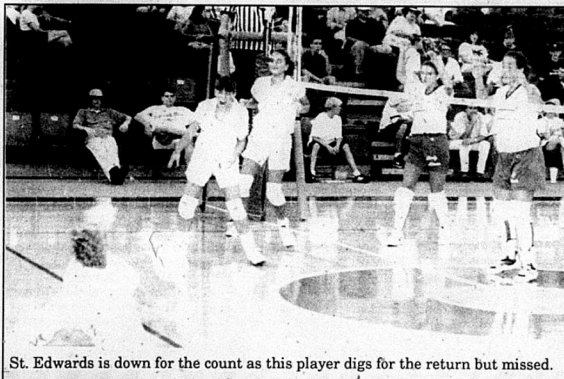

At the beginning of the third quarter, the Falcons caught the Blue Devils off-guard with an on-side kick and recovered the ball. A few penalties helped the Falcons to their first and only touchdown. The Devil defenders forced a bad kick.

The Falcons tried another on-side kick but the Devils were alert and recovered the ball. Senior quarterback Jerry Well played the remainder of the second half. Forest intercepted a pass on their own 9 yard line but were not able to capitalize on it. Pahokee's Richard Bryant covered #3 of the Falcons for several incomplete passes. The Devils got it back on a fumble on their own 31 yard line. The rest of the game was played by the second squad of the Blue Devils to give all players some experience.

The Blue Devils are off this week. The next game is Sept. 22 against first time district rival Cocoa Beach at their field.

St. Edwards is down for the count as this player digs for the return but missed.

Lee Sweet had a total of 97 yards on 22 carries on the night. The Gator defense was led by linebacker Brad Seider who had eight tackles and nine assists, and Farris Shatara with eight tackles and three assists. The Gator defense did not allow a Heritage pass to be completed all night.

The Gators have an open week next week and then travel to North Palm Beach Sept. 22 to play the Benjamin Buccaneers at 4 p.m. Head Coach Mandy Perez said his team is looking forward to the game against long-time rival Benjamin. Both Glades Day and Benjamin have an open week next week, so they should both be rested up for this tough battle. The game will be held on the Buccaneer's home field.

UF's Reidel Anthony receives AT&T punt return award

The AT&T Long Distance "punt return" award in NCAA Division I-A college football this week goes to the University of Florida's Reidel Anthony, who returned a second-quarter punt 52 yards to set up a touchdown as the fifth-ranked Gators defeated Houston, 45-21, on Saturday, Sept. 2.

A 6-foot, 173-pound sophomore wide receiver from South Bay, Florida (Glade Central High School), Anthony fielded a Houston punt at his own eight yard line, raced up the middle and cut to his right before being brought down at the Houston 40. The Gators scored on the next play to go ahead 28-14. A nominee for the Biletnikoff Award as one of the nation's leading receivers, Anthony caught two passes for 34 yards and added 92 yards on three kickoff returns. The Gators open defense of their Southeastern Conference Championship Saturday, Sept. 9, when they travel to Kentucky.

In honor of his "Long Distance" accomplishment, AT&T has donated $400 to the NCAA's Degree-Completion Award Program, bringing the AT&T contributions to this fund to more than $227,000. Anthony will be awarded an engraved plaque in recognition of his achievements.

"AT&T supports education in a variety of ways," said Jim Zembruski, AT&T's Director of Lifestyle and Event Marketing. "Through the AT&T Long Distance Awards we honor excellence on the playing field while providing the financial means for deserving student-athletes to continue their educations."

Four UF Gators charged in credit card scam

Standout sophomore receiver Reidel Anthony from South Bay and Sophomore Fred Taylor from Belle Glade who play for the University of Florida Gator football team found themselves charged Friday, Sept. 1, with one count each of fraudulent use of a credit card. Also charged were receiver Jamie Richardson and safety Teako Brown.

According to a Gainesville police report, the four players charged $71.22 in pizzas on a debit card at three Gainesville pizza restaurants "from July 18-25. Police traced the incident to the young men by using the phone number given when the pizzas were ordered. Anita Jarnagin, the victim, is a service technician at the Gainesville Police Department and has stated that all four players had confessed.

All four players, who have no previous charges, will have to pay back Jarnagin and perform community service, then the charges will be dropped.

Glades Central J.V. football team siked for new season

Last year the Glade Central Junior Varsity Football team went unbeaten with an 8-0 record.

"The team I have assembled this year is very talented, energetic and eager to get the season started," stated two-year Head J.V. Coach, Carl Gibbons. Mr. Gibbons staff consists of Assistant Head Coach Jim Reynolds, Line Coach Arthur Byner, Linebacker Coach Preston Vickers and Backs/Quarterbacks Coach Andre Russell.

"Last year's team was a team of very explosive guys that could make a big play happen at any time in a game. This year I'm expecting a galant team effort from everyone," said Coach Gibbons.

"This year's team strength is speed. I have a very quick J.V. football team and they are intelligent students in the classroom as well as on the field. My team's weakness will be experience. Some of the young men are not experienced but I feel they will do a great job," added Coach Gibbons.

"My strategy is to keep everything simple so that the team can perform with no mistakes. I'm excited about my second year and I welcome all the readers of "The Sun" to come out and watch the J.V. Raiders perform." concluded Coach Gibbons.

Compliments of Pro-Fisherman Walt Reynolds How to handle weather

By Mercury Marine

Getting caught "in a blow" might have been an exhilarating experience in the movies of a generation ago, but it's not much fun in real life.

Today's pleasure boats can handle surprisingly heavy weather safely, but it's the discomfort that you don't need. Avoid being out in a boat during a storm if at all possible.

The best way to do that is to stay tuned to a U.S. Weather Service or commercial radio station for forecasts. In the event the forecast is "iffy," stay home or boat close to shore so you can get to shelter quickly. This seems like obvious advice, but every summer the Coast Guard has to rescue boaters during storms that were expected and forecast, according to the Mariner Outboards boating authorities.

In addition to getting forecasts, a product boat skipper keeps his "weather eye peeled." The disadvantage a boater has—there's no shelter in open water—is offset by his visibility advantage. Because there are no visual obstructions when he's in open water, he can see the cloud formations on the horizon which warn of bad weather.

Watch the western horizon, the direction from which most of our weather comes. When a cloud begins to thicken and grow vertically, there's a chance of a shower. If it continues to grow darker and spread, you may be watching the development of a thunderstorm. (Sometimes the taller clouds have anvil-shaped tops; that's a sign of dangerous thunderstorms.) Head for shore without delay.

If you boat a lot, you'll probably get caught in rough water at some time or other. When it happens to you, slow down. Accept your fate and resign yourself to getting back slowly but safely. Get everyone aboard into a life jacket or vest. Although designed to keep a person afloat in the water, a vest will also protect the wearer from bruises during the bumpy ride.

If the water gets really rough, head into the seas at a slight angle. Throttle back to the point where you are only maintaining steering control. "Quartering" into the waves this way will help you ride out a almost any squall.
